

Volunteer Confidentiality Agreement

It is the policy of Refuge for Women to ensure that the operations, activities, and affairs of the residents and organization are kept confidential, unless the sharing of such information is approved by the Executive Director. Confidential information includes, but is not limited to, the location of the safe house, any information about the residents shared during a volunteer activity, Refuge for Women internal reporting, and Refuge for Women's intellectual property. Photos of residents or any photos at the safe house (even without residents) should not be taken and/or shared on social media without prior approval from the Program Director and/or Executive Director.

By signing this agreement, the individual agrees to this Confidentiality of Information Policy and acknowledges that violations of confidentiality will result in appropriate action including not allowing participation with future volunteer activities or other Refuge for Women events.

By signing this agreement, the individual also agrees to submit to a criminal background check.
